10.30 AM: VISIT AGRA FORT

Hardly a 10-minute drive from Taj Mahal, this is another historical gem worth exploring if you're in Agra. Although Delhi was the capital during most of Mughal Rule, there was a short period in between when it was shifted to Agra and the ruling Emperors during that period resided in this fort.

40 kms from Agra (1-hour drive), this is a fortified city which was a short-lived capital of the Mughal Empire for 13 years, during Emperor Akbar's rule.

The fort-city is divided into two parts - Fatehpur, which has the mosque and the Buland Darwaza (Victory Gate), the highest gateway in the world. The entry to this area is free. The other area, which contains the palaces, is chargeable and has some amazing buildings to see which include - Jodha Bai's Palace, Diwan-e-aam and Diwan-e-khaas, Birbal Bhawan and Panch Mahal. All these buildings are specimens of grand Mughal and Persian architecture, made of sandstone and marble.

6.00 PM: ENJOY SUNSET AT MEHTAAB BAGH OR BOAT RIDE ON THE YAMUNA

During the winter months (October - March), Mehtaab Bagh is a popular spot for enjoying the sunset which happens right behind Taj Mahal. This place is across the Yamuna River from Taj Mahal and offers stunning views of the sun going down.
